Fire Fighter Awareness Month

Fire Fighters and Cancer Risk

Cancer is one of the leading causes of death among firefighters. Studies show that firefighters face a significantly higher risk of developing certain types of cancer compared to the general population. January is Firefighter Cancer Awareness Month—a time to learn about these risks and explore ways to reduce them

The International Association of Firefighters and the American Cancer Society have partnered to provide resources, tools, and prevention strategies aimed at protecting firefighters from cancer. This collaboration seeks to reduce future disease risk while delivering essential patient support services nationwide, improving quality of life for firefighters living with cancer and advocating for better access to care.
